

“A solicitor advocate with 25 years’ experience in IP, Graham Burnett-Hall specialises in the litigation of complex technical disputes. His practice, with extensive trial experience at first instance and appeal, encompasses both patent litigation and contractual disputes with a high technical content.

He advises across a spectrum of fields encompassing life sciences, telecommunications, electrical engineering and medicinal devices, and often acts in multi-jurisdictional disputes co-ordinating and working with legal teams in Europe, the United States and China. He is recommended by several major legal and IP directories.”